CATHOLIC EDUCATION WEEK - ST PATRICK'S DAY

The theme for Catholic Education Week for 2019 is Growing Young in Christ.

Catholic Education Week is an opportunity for all Catholic schools in the Archdiocese of Melbourne to celebrate their Catholic identity, the pivotal role they play within their local community and the strength of the sector.

Schools across Melbourne are asked to send a group of children to attend the various functions that will happen during this time. One of the major events is the St Patrick's Day Mass on 15 March at St Patrick's Cathedral. Selected students will attend and families will be advised via CareMonkey.

St Aloysius celebrates 100 years as a school this year! As part of the Catholic Education Week celebrations the Senior students will take a special part at the Mass. They will be part of the Entrance Procession with Archbishop Comensoli and be part of the Mass readings to the day.

EDUCATION IN FAITH NEWS

On Friday February 8th St Anthony's School participated in a special Mass to celebrate the beginning of the school year. Students and teachers from both campuses came together to acknowledge the wonderful partnership now shared by St Anthony's Glen Huntly and St Aloysius Caulfield.

After Mass students from the various levels spent time getting to know each other while engaging in classroom activities.

Every student decorated a handprint which was used to create a large mural heart to celebrate our combined schools "Growing Together Hand in Hand."

PRACTICE HOPE!

Creator God,
You are our constant hope!

In the season of Lent, you call us to prayer, fasting and love of those most marginalised.

As a community of faith and courage,
let our gifts to Project Compassion be symbols of hope and solidarity with our one human family.

Accompany us as we journey with Jesus to bring 'good news' to all creation and ready our hearts to work for the common good of all your people.

We ask this in Jesus' name

AMEN

LENT AND PROJECT COMPASSION

Yesterday, Ash Wednesday, our Lenten journey began. The ashes placed on our foreheads are a symbol to remind us that during Lent we are trying to grow to be more like Jesus. The cross is a sign to remind us that just as Jesus gave of himself for others, we need to do the same. During the next forty days, we are called to reflect on our lives so we can focus on what is important. We are challenged to stretch our hearts and hands and embrace a new generosity.

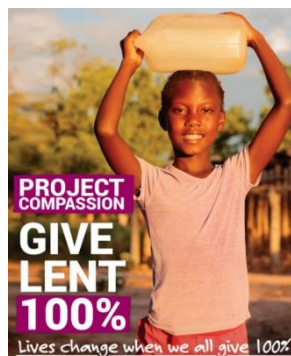

This Lent, we are making our journey with families around the world, living in poverty. Caritas Australia is the international aid and development agency of the Catholic Church in Australia. Each Lent, Caritas launches its Project Compassion appeal and along with the Parish, we will be supporting the campaign. This is a practical way of bringing to life our Christian service.

This year the theme is "Give Hope 100%". Life changes when we give 100%. All classrooms have a Project Compassion for our students and their families to raise much needed money for our neighbours

Through your generosity during Project Compassion this year, you are empowering young people to build a just future for themselves, their families and their communities.

LITERACY CORNER

This fortnight's article from <https://www.learningpotential.gov.au> is about how to help your child if they are reluctant to read especially in the 8-12 year old bracket. At home reading should always be done for pleasure.

Reluctant readers – how to help

In the middle years of school, some children (often boys) may lose interest in reading. 'Reluctant readers' may struggle with reading, not show any interest in reading or simply refuse to read independently. If this sounds like your child, here are some ideas to help you turn your reluctant reader into an enthusiastic bookworm!

Keep it simple

- It's a great idea to scan through the material your child is reading to check it is at their reading level. Making sure their reading material is not too advanced for them will help them to enjoy reading and stay engaged.

Tip:

If there are more than 5 words on a page that your child doesn't know, or isn't sure of, it's probably too difficult – encourage them to try something else.

- To increase your reluctant reader's confidence and motivation for reading, try to find 'Hi-Lo' books (High interest/Low reading level books). Hi-Lo books are exciting and engaging for kids, but are carefully written so they can be read easily – making reading fun and rewarding for reluctant readers. Talk to your child's teacher or the school/local librarian for some Hi-Lo book recommendations for your child.

Follow their interests

- Let your child choose what they want to read. Allowing them to read books, magazines or comics about topics they're interested in will help encourage them to read.
- Read and read again. If your child just wants to read the same books over and over again, that's OK! Through repetition, your child will become familiar with the text and eventually be able to read it with ease and confidence. This experience of reading success can help them to enjoy reading and give them the confidence to give new books a try.
- If other activities such as music, videogames, or sport are your child's passion, try to use them as springboards to their reading.
- You can find reading material on just about anything at the library. From video game guides to super heroes, sports to crafts, libraries have something to cater for every interest.

Make reading fun!

- Your child is more likely to develop a love of reading when they see it as a fun and enjoyable hobby.
- Most kids enjoy silly things. Try to find books that will make your child laugh, such as books of jokes or funny rhymes.
- Find the book version of the movies and TV shows your child likes, and read them together. Talk about the differences between the two versions of the story. Ask your child which they like better, and why?

- If your child likes to learn how to do new things (such as perform a magic trick or make a kite), encourage them to find out how by reading about it.
- Play games! Scrabble or Boggle are particularly good for building vocabulary and spelling. Other board games and trading card games are also good, as there is lots of written information and instructions to read as you play.
- If your child is competitive, try a reading challenge with a reward at the end. Tell them they can read anything they want but they must read for a certain number of minutes (or number of pages) and encourage them to tell you about what they read.

Mix up the medium

- Words are everywhere and supporting your child's reading can be done in a wide range of places. Encourage your child to try reading words wherever you see them – on household objects, sign posts, newspapers or on the bus.
- Encourage your child to explore a range of different reading materials such as graphic novels or manga (just make sure it's age appropriate!), audiobooks, e-books, magazines, instruction manuals – anything with words that your child would find interesting.
- Your child could even improve their reading and comprehension skills by keeping a diary or a journal to jot down their thoughts and ideas at the end of the day. You don't need a diary to do this, any old notepad will do.

Read together

- When you enjoy or have a passion for reading, your child will be more likely to enjoy it as well. Let your child see you reading and talk to them about the things you read.
- Despite knowing how to read, your child will still love to hear you read to them. Your child will benefit from having you sit down with them and read a chapter from their favourite book.
- Reading aloud can make reading a fun, social activity. You could encourage your child to read to you and follow it up by asking them questions about their reading material. For example, questions like "What did you think of that ending?" and "What do you like most about that character?" will help with their language and reading comprehension.
- You can also try taking turns reading sentences or pages of the same book to each other.
- Look up information in cook books, instruction manuals, phone books, atlases, dictionaries or on the internet together with your child – this can help show your reluctant reader how useful reading can be.

Happy reading everyone

F - 2 Classroom News

In Foundation the students have been learning about letters. They are learning that each letter has a name and a sound. Foundation students have learnt to sing some songs to help them practise the sounds. They have learnt "The Phonics Song" and the "I'm Thinking of the Word" song.

In Maths the Foundation students have been learning about counting. They can count to 20.

In Integrated Studies students have been learning about Communities. They made a picture of their class community and learnt that God is a part of our community at St Anthony's School. They also made hats for different Community Helpers, like firefighters, the police, chefs and nurses. Then the students made houses during Buddy Time using recycled materials. They are making their very own mini community!

In Literacy in Year 1/2 the students have been looking at different types of Poetry. They have looked at rhyming poems and acrostic poems. They wrote acrostics using their name or a friend's name as the starting point. The Year 2's also listened to a fun chant called "Double, Double, This, That." They focussed on the beat of it and clapped the syllables. They practised the chant till they were really good at it and then, keeping the same beat, they had great fun writing their own chants.

In the Integrated Unit the students have been wondering about History and why it is important. They have found out about their own family histories. They made Family Trees that showed their grandparents and even some great- grandparents!

They have also been wondering about the history of Jesus. They found that they can find out stories about God and Jesus from the Bible and through artwork. We have been exploring some stories this way. They read about God and Noah and the flood and created their own paintings to show their understanding.

On Tuesday this week F - 2 made pancakes for Shrove Tuesday, the day before Lent begins.

YEAR 3/4 EXCURSION RECOUNTS

07/03/2019

Polly Woodside

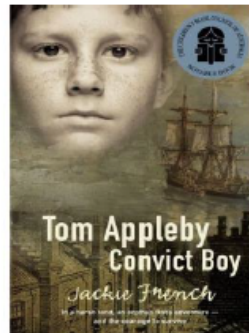

On the 25th of february the 3/4s went to Polly Woodside, a old cargo ship made in 1885 . We split into three groups and Sarah, Renee and Ross [Our leaders] showed us around the ship. Our group went to the back of the ship where Sarah showed us how to turn the wheel. After that we went to the main deck where sarah showed us some jobs the sailors used to do, we got to have a go at scrubbing the decks. Sarah poured lots of water onto the deck so it was like the ocean splashing over the side of the ship. Next we moved onto the bunks where the sailors used to sleep, they were really cramped and it would have been really tight. She told us that the two beds that were closest to the side of the ship were the two comfiest beds because they did not get as jostled as all the other beds. Now it was time to go to the front deck. There was a big bell at the front of the boat to tell the other sailors that there was danger coming. Then we went to the bottom of the ship it was hot down there but really interesting we had an awesome time at the Polly Woodside. We really want to go there again.

Tom Appleby Convict Boy 07/03/19

This term we have been reading Tom Appleby Convict Boy. The book was written by Jackie French and is about a boy who is convicted to Botany Bay on the First Fleet. The reason why he was convicted to Botany Bay was because he stole a guinea piece, threepence and two sixpence and he also stole a handkerchief. He had to stay in Botany Bay for seven years before he became a free settler. When he got to Botany Bay he soon releases that he may not ever set foot on English ground. So Tom faces the hard challenge of growing his food and building his hut. We are only halfway in but we can't wait to read some more.

Excursion

On the 25 February grade 3/4 went to Polly Woodside and the National Gallery of Victoria. We got a worksheet and we had to fill in some questions about the art. Our favourite thing in the Gallery was the shell necklace made by aboriginals. There were several paintings and there was even a stain glass window and a chair. We also saw some interesting paintings in the NGV. Most of the paintings we saw were quite old. Overall we had awesome time It was so fun!!!

YEAR 5/6 CAMP

Zoe T: Camp was so much fun! We went to Beechworth and learnt lots about the gold rush and Australia's history. One of my favourite activities was the Old Beechworth Gaol, where we learnt lots about what it was like to be a prisoner when the Gaol was still in use. We even saw Ned Kelly's cell because he had been held in the Gaol three times. Ellen Kelly had also been in the Gaol with a three-month-old baby. It was so interesting!! I also enjoyed Billsons Brewery where we learnt about how they make cordial and even got to sample some cordial and they gave us a free bottle of cordial. One other really fun thing was going panning for gold, I found two pieces of silver and two pieces of gold. Everyone found some and had heaps of fun! I can't believe this is my last primary school camp. I had so much fun with all my friends and wish I could do it again, I've made so many memories I've lost count.

Charlie B: Camp was awesome I really enjoyed it, and we went to multiple fantastic places like the Beechworth lolly shop and the Beechworth honey shop plus lots more. My favourite outdoor activity was the Burke Museum which was very detailed and interesting. They actually had the real Burke, Wills and King bags. King survived because he found an indigenous tribe and he pleaded for help. That's why they don't really talk about King as much as Burke and Wills because they died which was devastating because they dug a hole and it had a symbol on the tree saying dig down with an arrow pointing down and all the supplies. It was really hard to choose which activity to do they were all spectacular I can't believe it's my last camp at this school the camps have been out of this world and full of good memories.

Natarsha B: Camp was amazing! The beds were so comfortable and the food was great! My favourite part of camp is hard to choose, but the parts that I liked most were the Beechworth Gaol, the Beechworth Cemetery and the famous lolly shop and the even more famous honey shop. At the Cemetery, there was a headstone that had a baby's name on it that only lived for one day (6/5/89 ~ 7/5/89). Did you know that Ned Kelly got sent to the Beechworth Gaol three times and one of them was for receiving a stolen horse? Also, Ellen Kelly was at the Old Melbourne Gaol when her eldest son was hung, and 7 of her 8 children died during her lifetime as well as her husband, Red! Overall the 5 /6 Camp to Beechworth was AMAZING! Thank you to Mr Mooney, Ms Will and all the other teachers who came along, for making our camp even more amazing!

THANK YOU!!

Small print/Things you may want to know:

After much discussion we've chosen to do it this way – it's labour intensive but appears to be the fairest method for all. I'm happy to discuss alternatives for next year, please feel free to engage me on the subject.

Hard copies will be entered onto a database manually and kept until the end of the season.

All hard copies will be photographed as received so there's a copy in the 'cloud'.

I am happy to forward read only copies of the spreadsheet for people to triple check.

I strongly recommend keeping a copy for yourself

The prize-winning examples above are just that. I do think that collectively we could achieve those figures easily, but we'll need your help.

All PFA monies are put back into the school and there's a fantastic example of money well spent in the newsletter this week. I'm sure the new library furniture is greatly appreciated by all students and teachers.

We appreciate that a lot of parents are time poor and this is a great way to give a little to the PFA without much effort and a chance to clean up.

You don't need to know anything about footy at all. I don't and last year came equal fourth.

GOOD LUCK!!!
